

We should use common sense and not allow automobile makers to make an engine that is sold to the public that allows a car to go over 70 miles per hour.